Should we plan a time to discuss what we might ask for to help our risk assessment?

Subject: Pebble's new counsel

John Iani called me to let me know that he and his firm, Van Ness Feldman, have been hired to represent Pebble Partnership at Bristol Bay. He wanted to let us know that they want to have an open dialog with EPA and want to get us whatever information we may be interested in to help us process all the 404(c) letters EPA is receiving.

I told him we are reviewing the letters and figuring out next steps, and that we will let Pebble know those steps when we are ready to move forward. I also assured him that we will be willing to listen to Pebble and receive any information they care to share with us.
